

Things have happened very quickly this week but we wanted you to know that Renie underwent surgery this morning to remove a meningioma tumor on her brain. The surgery went well and she is headed for a full recovery. The tumor was benign and we are happy about that. See her note from August 14th below:

Thank you for your prayers and please continue to pray for a quick recovery.

I have been experiencing some seizure activity but very slight . Since epilepsy runs in my family , I chalked it up to that and ignored it until it started to interrupt my days on an almost weekly basis.

I recently opted for a new supplemental insurance and a new doctor who is wonderful and God inspired. He gives the information to me straight, and I like that. I have had two MRIs that confirm that I have a meningioma, though usually a benign tumor, they can mess with your everyday functions and activities.( I have already cursed the thing in Jesus name , and put satan on notice that I have no time for such nonsense, and he has no place in my life!) Since we do live in mortal bodies , and since we need to take care of them, I am having a neurologic work up on the 21st of August. There are many options and I would appreciate your prayers for wisdom as Ted and I make some of these decisions.

As far as I know right now the tumor is small. I will keep you posted as to the developing victories that Jesus will manifest in my life through this.

Stay tuned for a miracle!

God bless,
Renie
